

	MAUI	KAUA'I
WHEN?	May 20-24, 2010 (Thurs - Mon)	May 26-30, 2010 (Wed - Sun)
WHERE?	Donald G. Malcolm Center 1305 N Holopono St Kihei, Maui	Aston Aloha Beach Hotel 3-5920 Kuhio Highway Kapa'a, Kaua'i

WITH WHOM?

Nancy Lee Chong & Janice Lee Baehr

WHAT?

Continue the tradition of Hawaiian quilting and learn to design your personal Hawaiian quilt of any size.

In the original tradition of Hawaiian quilting, no two Hawaiian quilts were alike, each one was unique. Gradually this tradition faded as patterns became readily available. But the tradition is revived every time a quilter designs their one-of-a-kind quilt without the aid of a pattern. Our desire is to perpetuate this aspect of Hawaiian quilting by sharing our simple design techniques with you.

Even if you have taken a design class from Nancy before, this will be a more extensive learning experience.

FOR WHOM?

For you, if you have a desire to design your own personal Hawaiian quilt.

No quilting or drawing experience is required, or necessary.

WHAT'S INCLUDED:

- Evening reception and presentation (Day 1)
- Field trip, transportation via charter bus (Day 2)
- 3-days of classroom instruction with Nancy & Janice (Days 3, 4 & 5)
- Hawaiian quilt designing hand-outs
- Use of Nancy & Janice's design templates
- Private shopping time at a local quilt shop
- Free, autographed Hawaiian quilt design book & DVD, by Nancy and Janice, when it is published in early 2011

(We will be video taping during these sessions to gather some content for the DVD.)

NOTE: No appliqué or quilting instruction is provided during this class.

WHAT YOU PROVIDE:

- Transportation to the event
- Admission to museum and gardens on day of field trip (estimated to be $5 on Maui, and $16 on Kauai)
- Hotel room (Discounted special room rates are being offered to our students on Kauai at the Aston Aloha Beach Hotel and on Maui at the Hotel Wailea. Details will be provided after you are registered for the class.)
- Meals
- Design supplies (list to be provided)
- Fabric, optional (list to be provided)

COST:

- $450.00 (US)
- $225.00 deposit will hold your spot until February 20, 2010.
- Payment of the full amount in US dollars is required by February 20, 2010.
- See the Refund Policy on our website.

Register on our website, or call.

CLASS SIZE:

We are limiting registration to a maximum of 20 students in each class. With this size class, you will be assured individual attention from Nancy and Janice, and be inspired by the flow of energy from those sharing the experience with you.

OPTIONAL STUDIO TOUR WITH KERI DUKE on Maui:

May 19, 2010, for students of the Hawaiian quilt design class. Details on our website.

NEEDLETURN APPLIQUÉ CLASS:

This is a very unique opportunity to learn Needleturn Appliqué from Nancy Lee Chong, in Hawaii. You are encouraged to take this class if you have never taken an appliqué class from Nancy, or want to brush-up on your appliqué skills. Open to beginners and experts alike. Register now to assure your space in class. You can take this class by itself, or in combination with the Design class.

- MAUI: May 20, 2010, at Sew Special in Kahului. 9:30am - 4:30pm. $75
- KAUA'I: May 31, 2010, in Princeville. 9:00am - 4:30pm. $75

Quilt image:
"You Are In Our Hearts", © 2001, Pacific Rim Quilt Co.

DAILY HIGHLIGHTS:

Day One - Evening Gathering:

- Welcome reception with Nancy & Janice.
- Orientation to prepare you for Day Two and beyond.
- Presentation: Hawaiian Quilting: It's History, Traditions & Superstitions.

Day Two - Field Trip:

- Visit a museum for a rare private viewing of their Hawaiian quilt collection.
- Visit a garden to photograph and sketch ideas for your Hawaiian quilt.

Day Three - Designing:

- Introduction to the basics of Hawaiian quilt designing.
- Nancy & Janice will present their various approaches.
- Independent design time with Nancy and Janice

Day Four - Designing:

- Independent design time with Nancy and Janice.
- Private shopping time at a local quilt shop (Day 3 or 4).

Day Five - Cut & Layout:

- Using your pattern and fabric, you will learn to cut your fabric and lay it out on the background fabric.

When you are finished you will have one, or more, personal Hawaiian quilt designs and be ready to appliqué your design in fabric.

CONTEXT: Why this class now?

For over a century the only way you could own a Hawaiian quilt was to design and make it yourself, or be the very fortunate recipient of a special gift. A few talented designers would give their individual designs to others as gifts, but there were no patterns available for purchase. And, it was kapu (taboo) to copy the design of another quilter without their permission.

Out of necessity and practicality, during a Hawaiian quilting revival in the 1970's and 1980's a few pattern books emerged for purchase. Initially patterns were for pillows or bed quilts, and gradually medium-sized patterns became available for wall-hangings.

In 1988, Nancy and Janice published their first Hawaiian quilt patterns. At first we made our patterns available to the Hawaiian community in the greater Seattle area at luaus and hula conferences. We also demonstrated Hawaiian quilting at weekend craft fairs in local malls. We had a little brochure we handed out that resulted in new students and modest sales for a few years. Our primary focus was to educate the general public about Hawaiian quilts, not necessarily to sell patterns. Designing came easily to us though, so we gradually added more patterns to our line. We continued in this modest fashion until 1999, when the internet made it possible to reach quilters around the world. In 1999, Janice created our website, a perfect vehicle to make patterns available to people interested in Hawaiian quilts no matter where in the world they lived.

With our roots firmly planted in the Hawaiian culture and traditions of Hawaiian quilting, Nancy and Janice now plan to complete the circle. We each designed our first, and many subsequent, Hawaiian quilts; we have made it possible for thousands of quilters to make Hawaiian quilts using our patterns; and now we plan to teach anyone with the desire how to design their own Hawaiian quilt.

The original tradition that each Hawaiian quilt should be unique changed forever when patterns became available. But the tradition is revived every time a quilter designs their one-of-a-kind quilt without the aid of a pattern. Our desire is to perpetuate this aspect of Hawaiian quilting by sharing our simple design techniques with you.

Design Your Personal Hawaiian Quilt with us in Hawaii!

MAUI
May 20-24, 2010

KAUA'I
May 26-30, 2010

Register today to reserve your spot!
No drawing or quilting experience necessary.

Needleturn Appliqué Class
with Nancy Lee Chong on each island, too!

Visit our website for more details and to register!
WWW.PRQC.COM

Nancy Lee Chong & Janice Lee Baehr
Pacific Rim Quilt Company

PO Box 932, Snohomish, WA 98291-0932
360-568-7778 • info@prqc.com